The company's Gabanintha vanadium project is located in Western Australia.

Australian Vanadium has appointed Mastermines

Australian Vanadium Ltd (ASX:AVL) has engaged China-specialist Mastermines to assist the company with an Asia focused relationship and marketing strategy.

Mastermines will provide AVL with an active approach towards Chinese investment in the future, as the company seeks to develop interest in Gabanintha and markets for its potential products, as a steel additive and for an ever-widening range of energy storage related applications.

Vincent Algar, managing director, commented:

"Making inroads into China and Asia can be costly and time consuming, with Mastermines assisting we will be able to extend our current campaigns to the fastest growing region on the planet."

AVL is focused primarily on advancing Gabanintha towards feasibility and production.
